SAINT-EMILION

2022

Grand Corbin is comfortable with this style of vintage. The estate's northern exposure is a great asset in particularly hot and dry summers. The blue clay vein that runs through the vineyard at between 90cm and 150cm maintained the water supply throughout the ripening cycle. The variable depth of this vein is also responsible for the mosaic of terroirs at Grand Corbin.

2022 is a blend of this diversity, with the small berries picked at the bottom of the hillside bringing concentration and colour, and the larger Merlot and Cabernet Franc berries from the top of the plateau giving the wine a beautiful aromatic radiance and smooth texture.

The work put in place with Axel Marchal, increasingly precise plot selection in particular, has resulted in one of the finest vintages of Grand Corbin. The clean, bright fruit is carried far by the soft structure of the tannins. The round and flavourful palate gives the wine lots of generosity. The balance is perfectly judged and precise.

This exceptional vintage reveals all the personality of the Grand Corbin terroir.
